CANDIDATES IN REMOTE JOBS

smartdept. inc. is a nationwide creative, digital, and marketing talent resource headquartered in Chicago. We provide companies with freelance, contract, direct hire, and contract-to-hire candidates. smartdept. inc. candidates are remote

Remember when geography was a key factor in deciding who was the best candidate for your open opportunity? Well, with swift advancements in workflow technology, those days are gone. Now you can hire the best available candidate no matter what planet they call home. In fact, we are so committed to finding you the most qualified candidate that we'll even provide their equipment if necessary. We've done it before! And if collaboration is still a vital part of your organizations success, we'd still be happy to search for on-site or hybrid needs, too.

"smartdept. inc. found us a developer, that we have been working with for more than a decade. We like working with him so much that even after he moved out of state we continue to work with him remotely. Sometimes working remotely with folks can be a challenge, but not with Richard. He is so good, from his skill set to his demeanor, to his understanding of how to work with a creative ad agency, that he is a perfect match for our environment."
